Abstract: Since English has become the international language for communication in different spheres of people's life, people spend a lot of time to be able to communicate in it. The desire to communicate in English is the primary reason why speaking is considered to be the most important skill to improve. The main purpose of this research is to find ways to make the fourth graders speak more and speak freely without fears and inhibitions. Thus, language courses should focus on speaking activities, this will also enable language learners to improve other skills as well.

Key words: teaching speaking, speaking activities, improve speaking
