Abstract: I chose this topic because it is both a common problem all around world, and I have many friends who are member of LGBT, and have this problem. Moreover, I am always interested in both Grey's Anatomy and Doktorlar in my free times. In this research, the main aim is to find reasons of difference towards to get some results and to raise awareness about this issue by researching. While researching about this issue, I preferred to find some comments about homosexuality in all social media platforms and past resources, so I could understand what made this difference in society. In addition, I have learnt that Turkish Government effects society and institutions to have some behaviors about homosexuality because some institutions are afraid of government and its sanctions. That is why their perspective towards to homosexuality is different from United States of America's towards. I hope this research will help a little bit to understand the problems, and to fix them in a positive way to live in a world that everyone has peace with their own choices and lives.
